PROFILE

As a dynamic front-end developer with full-stack expertise, I've built numerous full-stack projects. I'm passionate about crafting high-performance, SEO-optimized web applications, with a strong focus on performance metrics and delivering a seamless user experience. My skills span both front-end and back-end development, making me adaptable and ready to tackle complex projects with ease.

WORK EXPERIENCE.

Freelance Web Developer

As a freelance developer, I built websites and applications for various clients, focusing on creating customized solutions that met their unique business needs. My clients consistently appreciated the quality of my work, and I ensured projects were delivered on time while maintaining clear communication throughout.

Freelance Developer for Estidam Company

Collaborated with Estidam for more than a year, developing custom websites for their businesses. I handled multiple projects, working closely with stakeholders to transform their requirements into fully functional websites. By understanding their needs and delivering high-quality solutions, I established a strong working relationship with the company.

PREVIOUS SKILLS

As a versatile front-end developer with strong full-stack capabilities, I've worked extensively with Vue.js, creating multiple projects for clients that deliver both performance and scalability. I also have significant experience with PHP and Laravel framework, having built numerous applications with these technologies
